

Primary School Completion Rates: Global Trends and Country Highlights

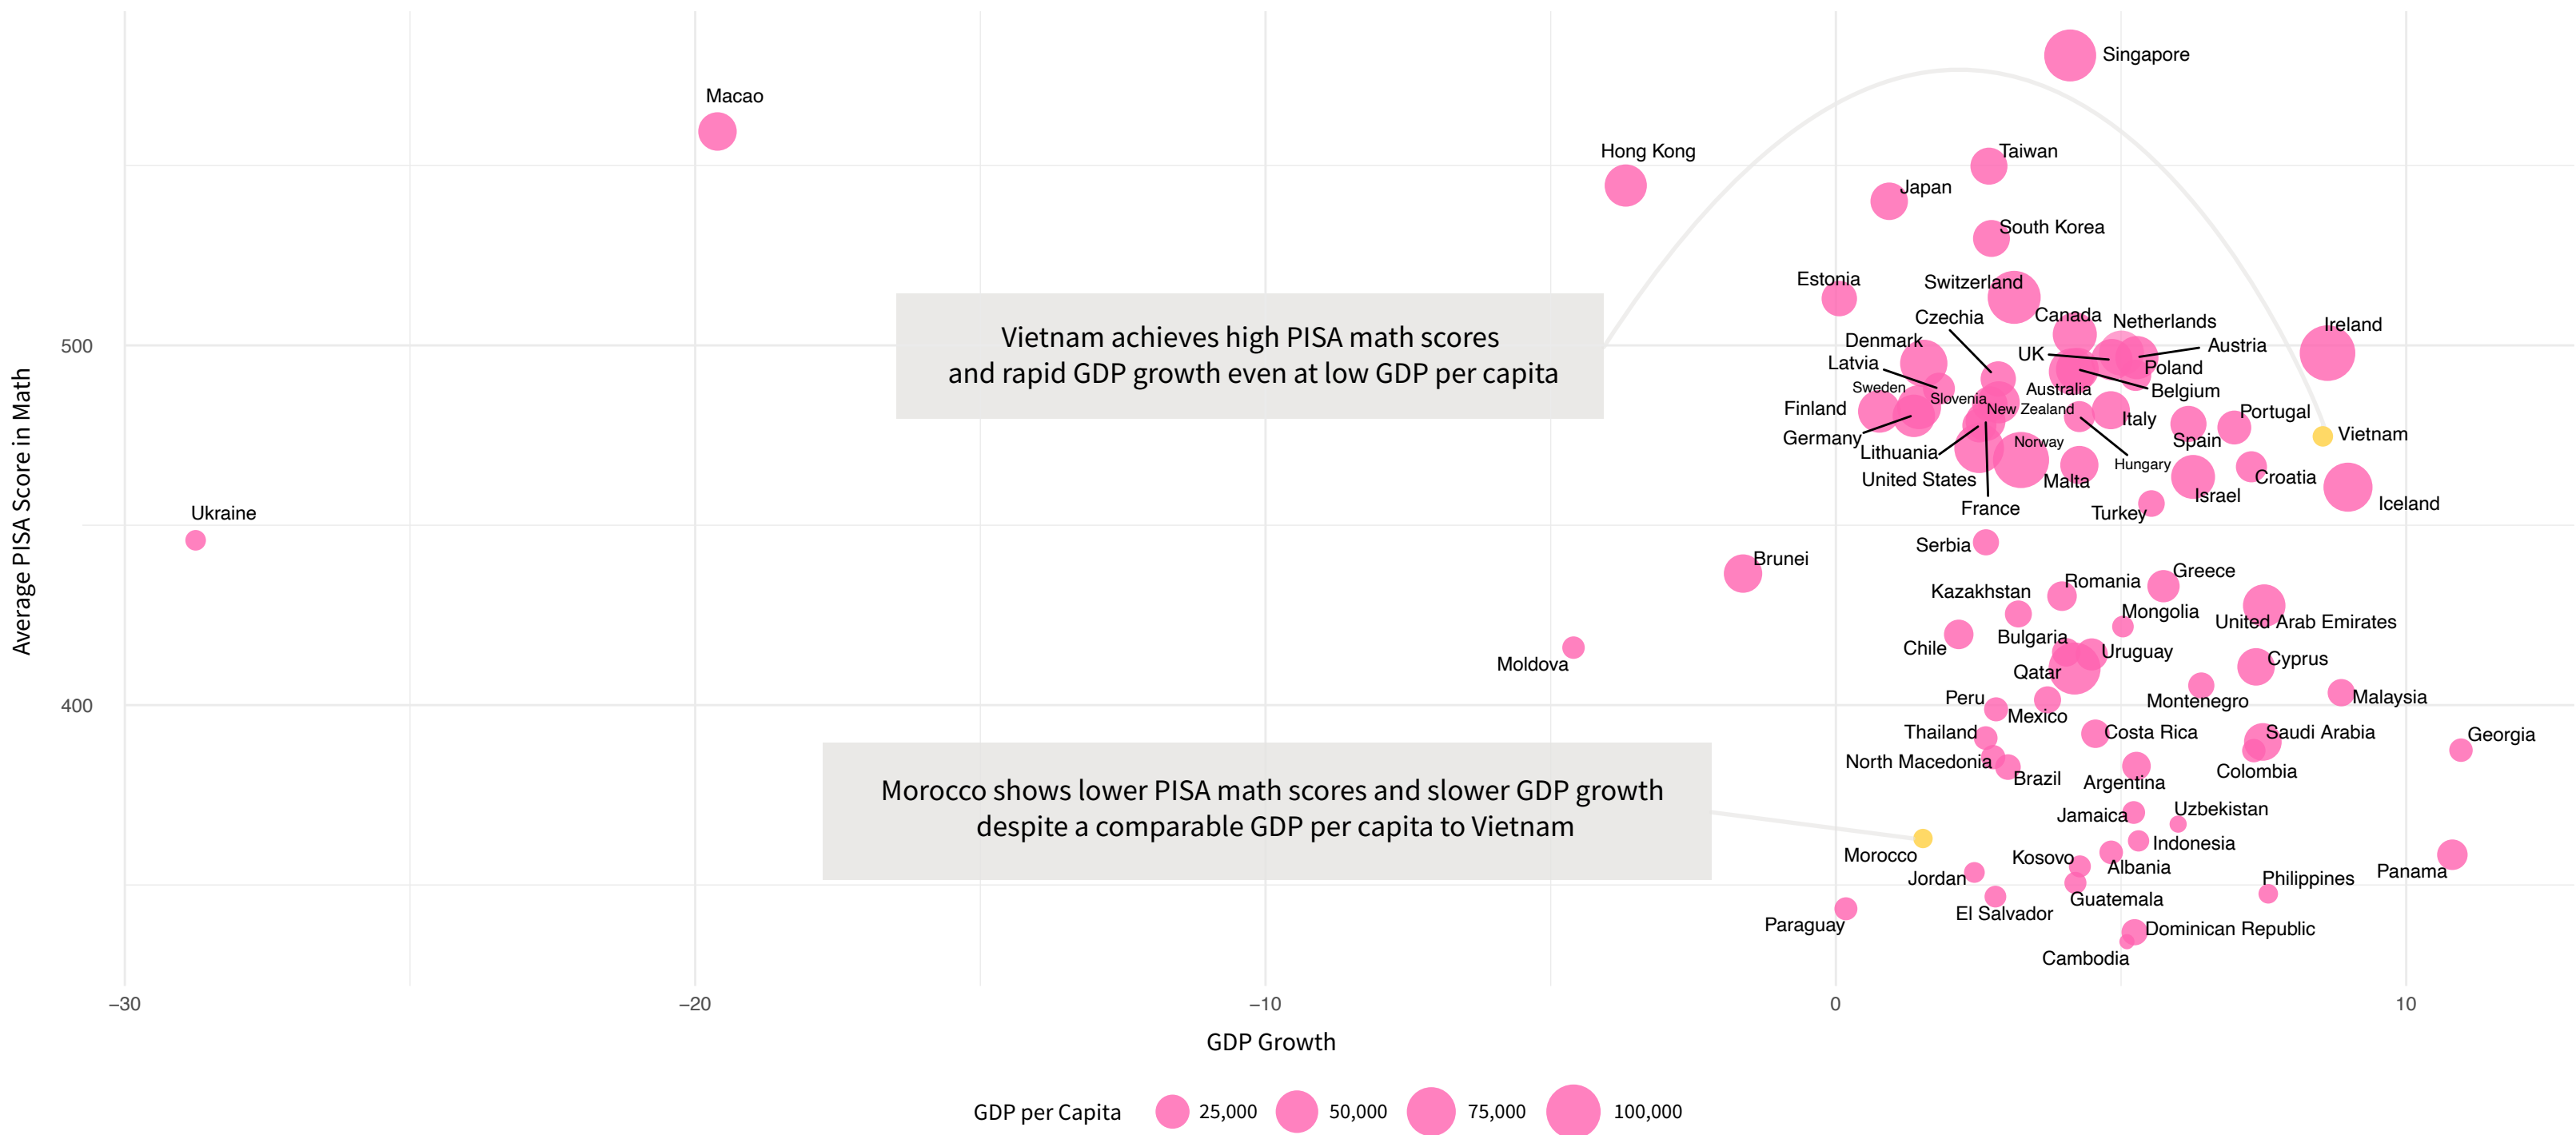

Comparing progress in Morocco and Vietnam against global income groups (2000–2010)

Data: UNESCO Institute for Statistics (2024)

Average performance of 15-year-olds in Math (2022)

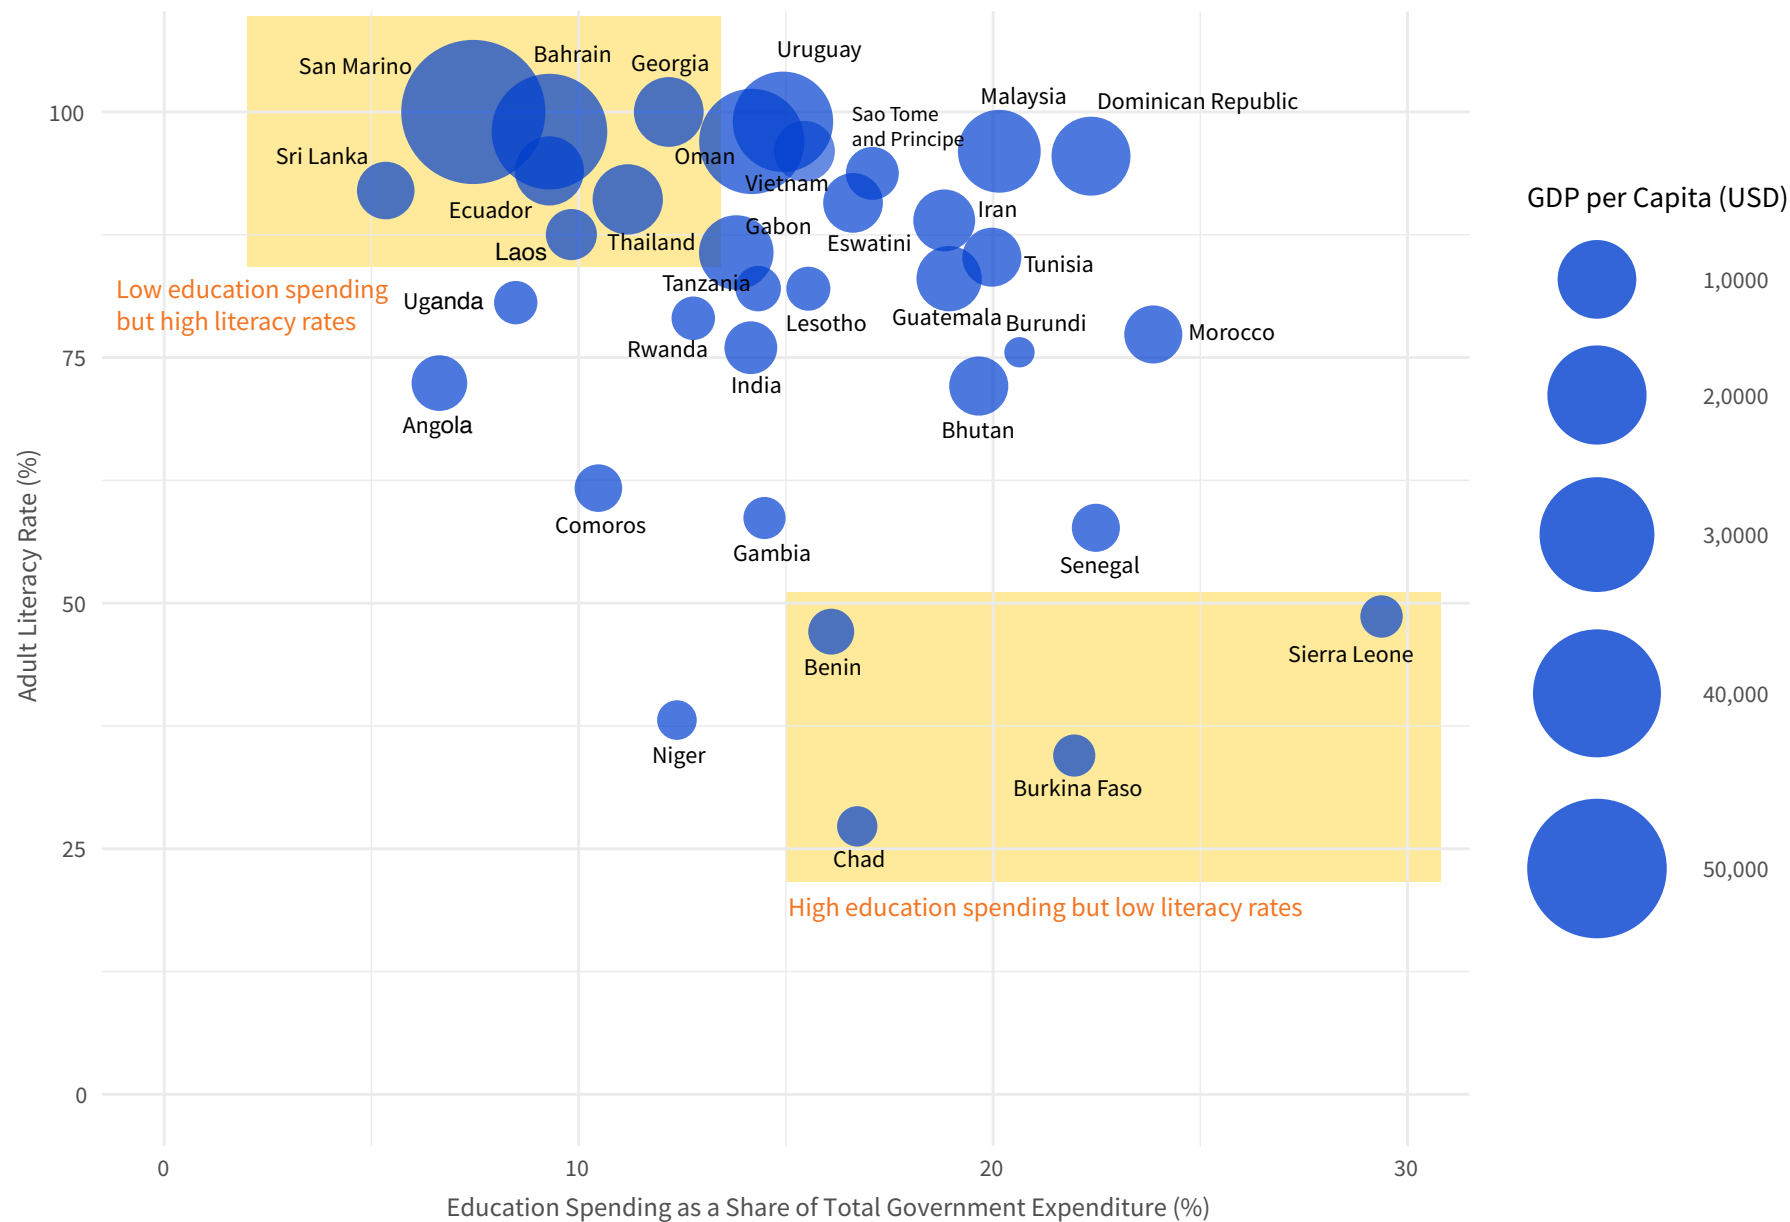

Despite similar economic constraints, Vietnam's 15-year-olds outperform peers worldwide, while Morocco struggles to lift scores

Source: OECD, Our World in Data and World Bank

Exploring the Relationship Between Education Spending, Literacy and National Wealth (2022)

Higher investment doesn't always translate into better educational outcomes, especially among lower-income countries

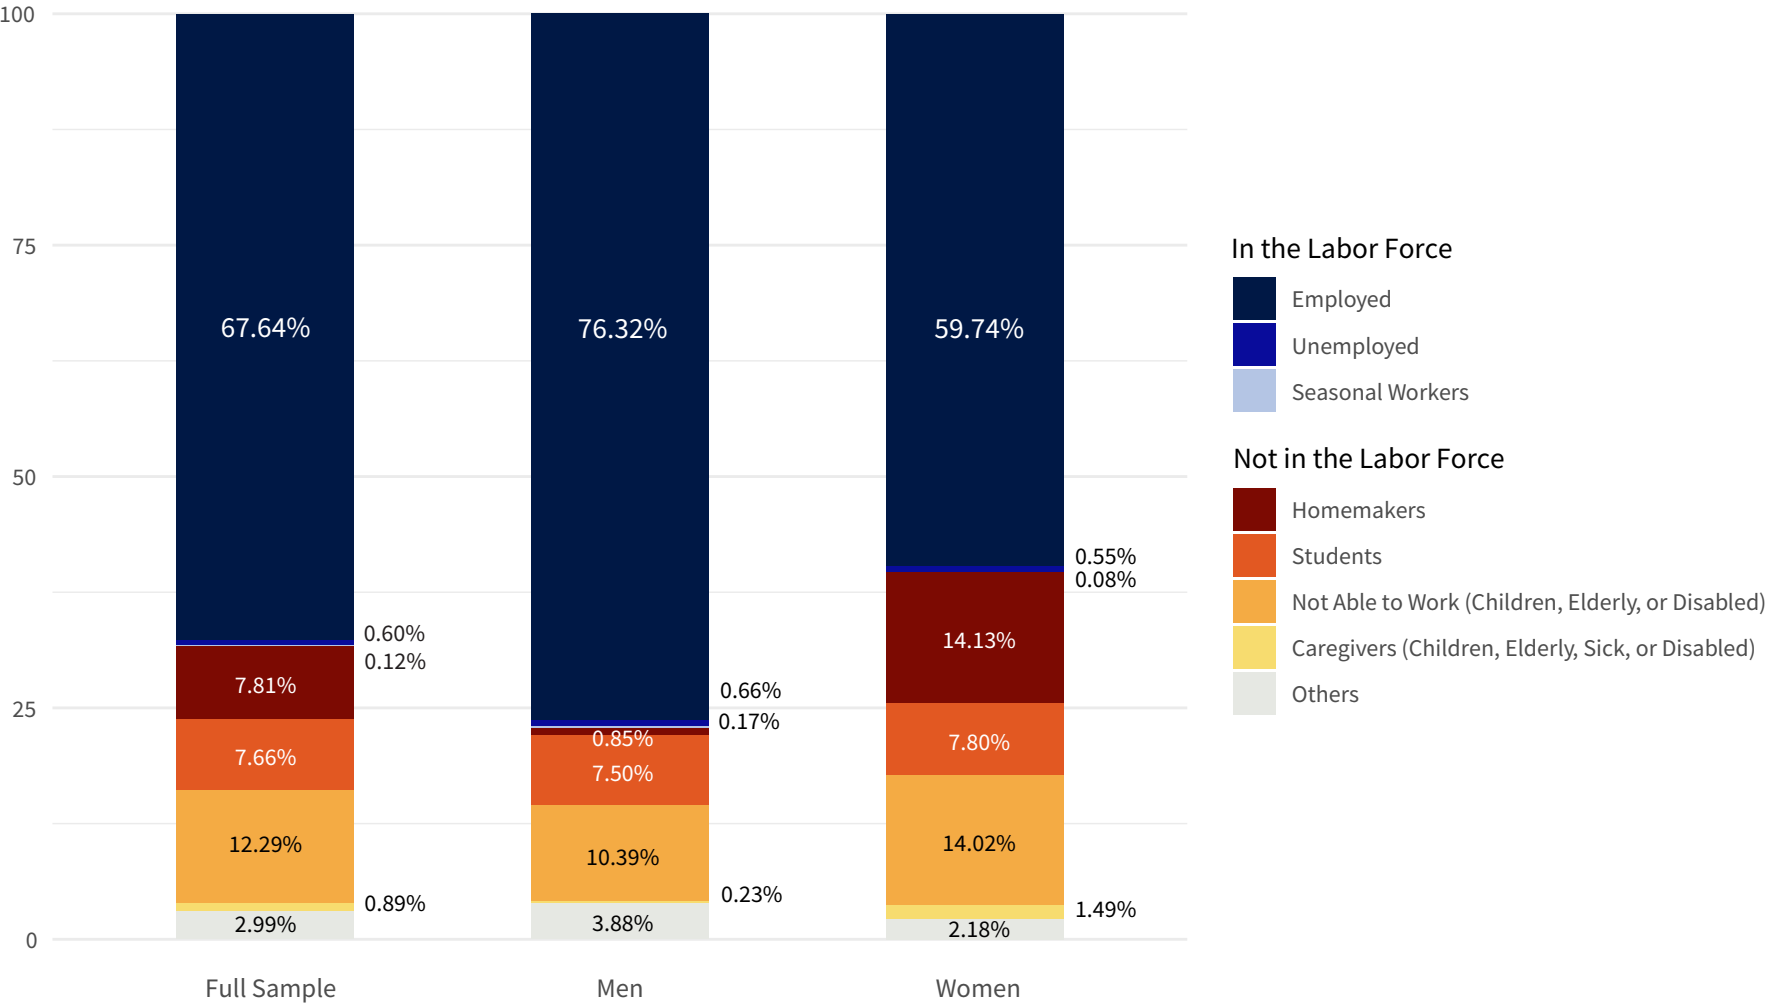

Source: UNESCO Institute for Statistics and World Bank (2022)

Note: Countries included in this visualization were selected based on data availability for education spending, literacy rates and GDP per capita in 2022.

Understanding Gender Disparities in Thailand's Labor Market (Quarter 4, 2024)

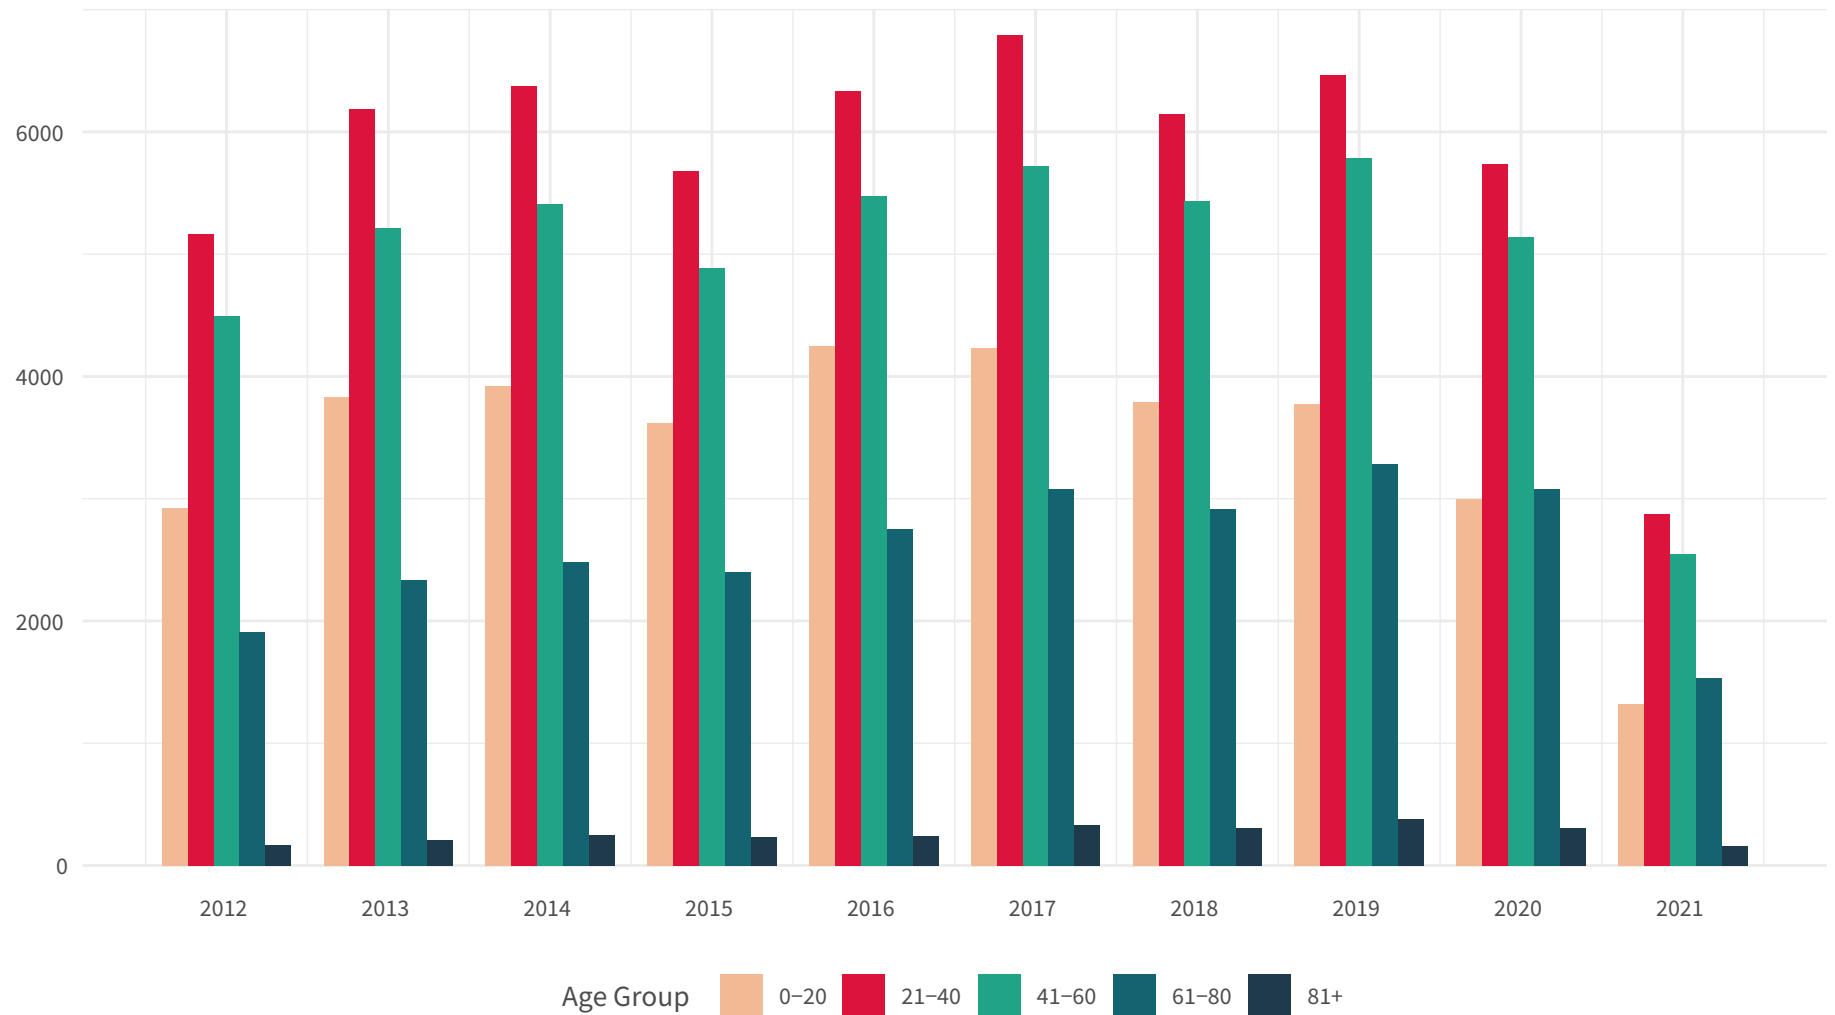

While men dominate formal employment, women are disproportionately responsible for unpaid caregiving and household roles

Source: National Statistical Office, Thailand (2024)

A Decade of Road Traffic Deaths (2012-2021): Young Adults at Highest Risk

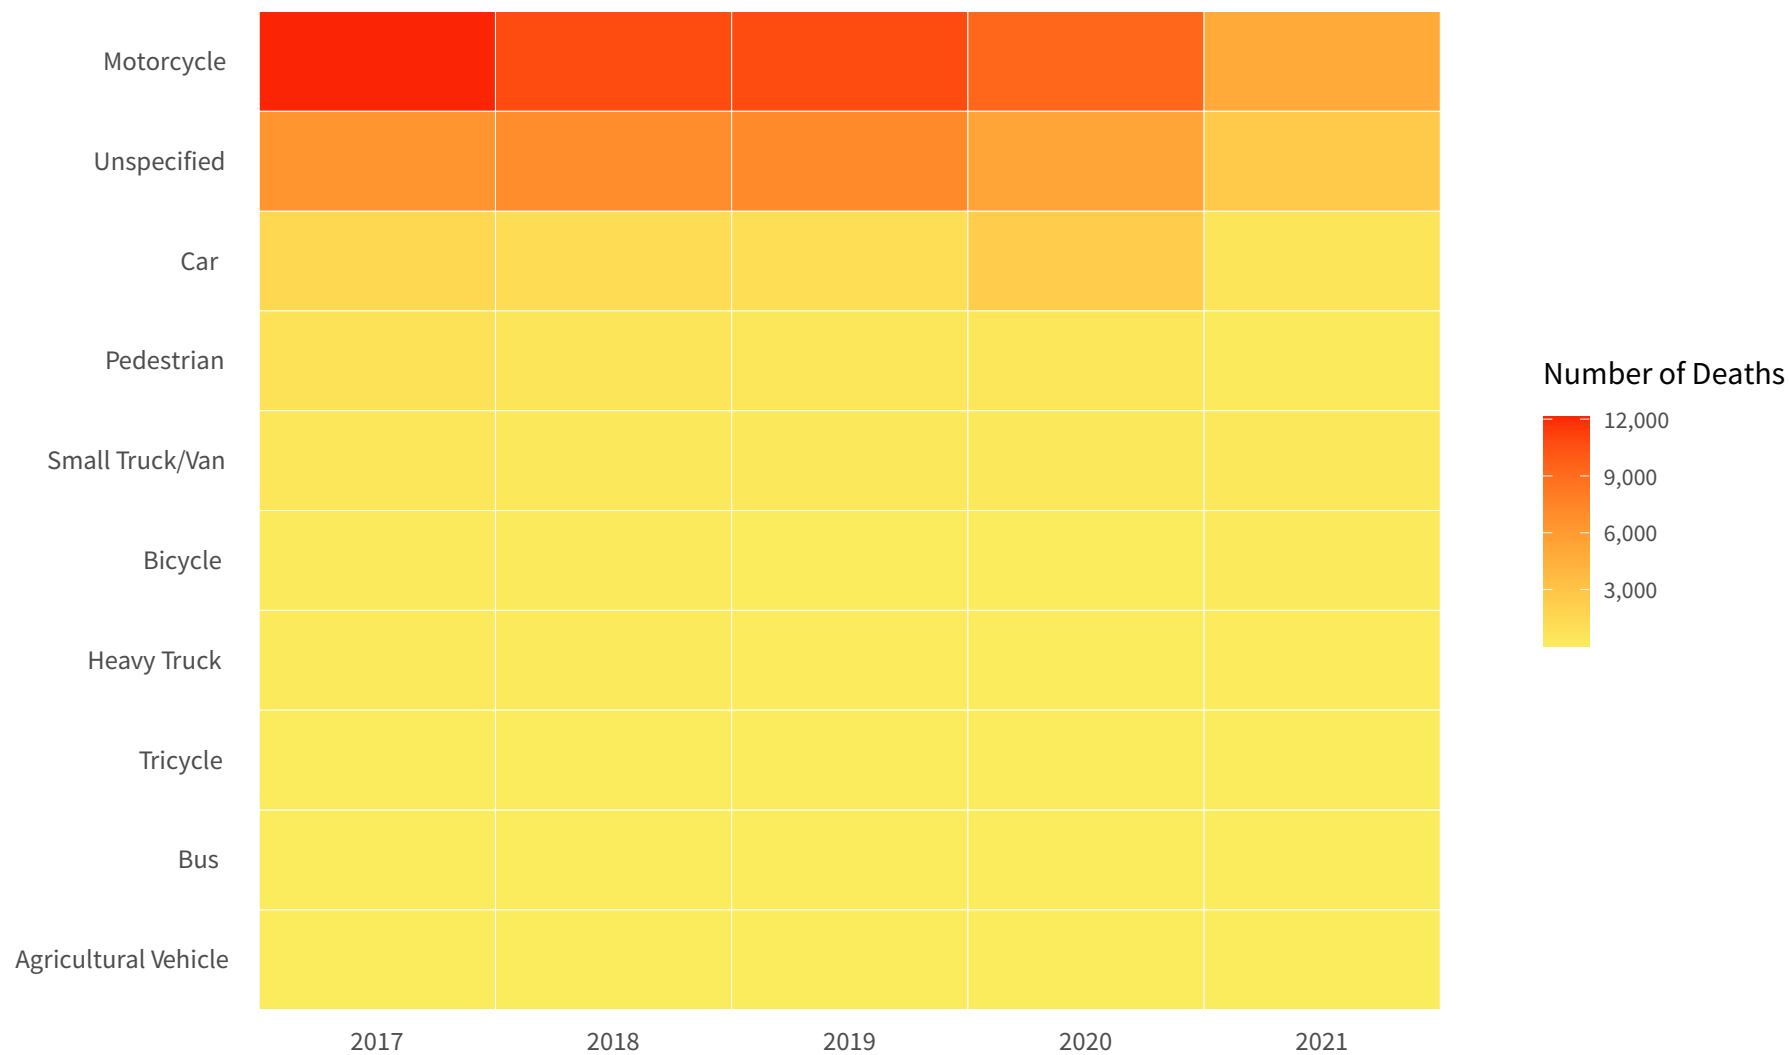

The 21-40 age group consistently records the highest fatalities, with a significant decline in 2021

Data: Department of Disease Control, Thailand (2021)

Road Traffic Fatalities by Vehicle Type in Thailand

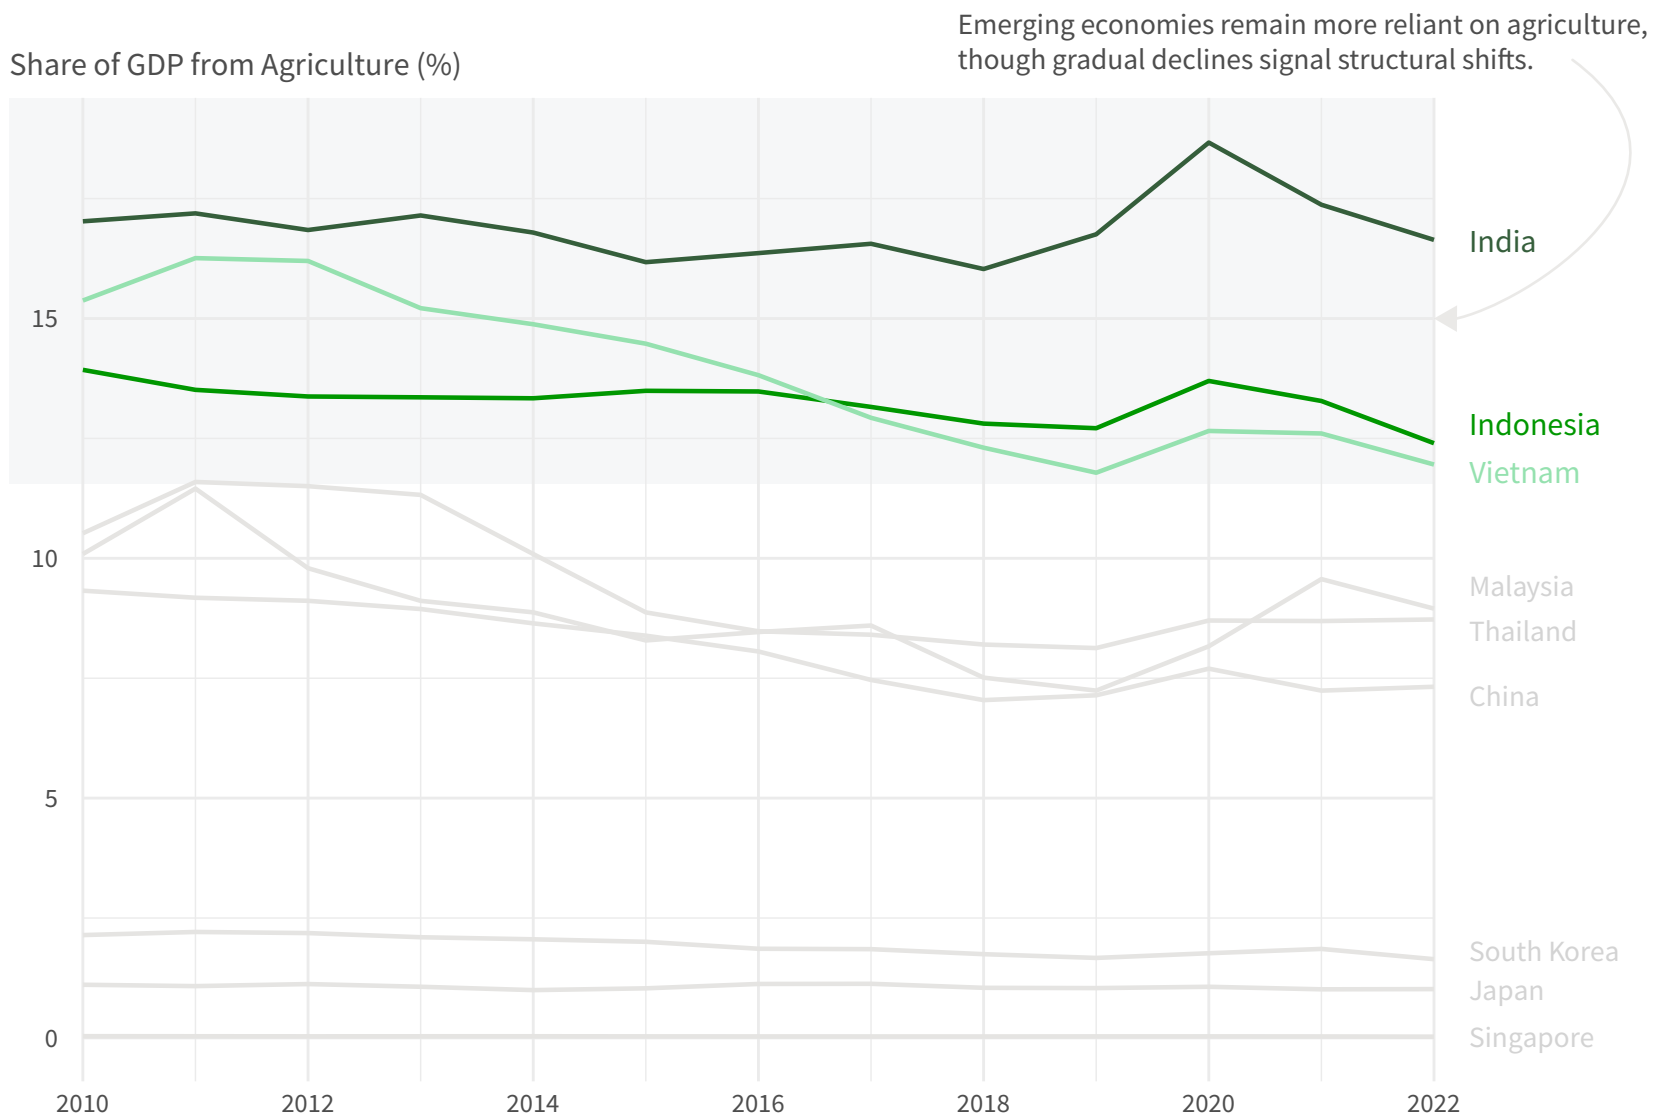

Motorcycles account for the highest fatalities, followed by cars during 2017–2021

Data: Department of Disease Control, Thailand (2021)

Declining Trends in Agricultural GDP Share Across Asian Economies (2010–2022)

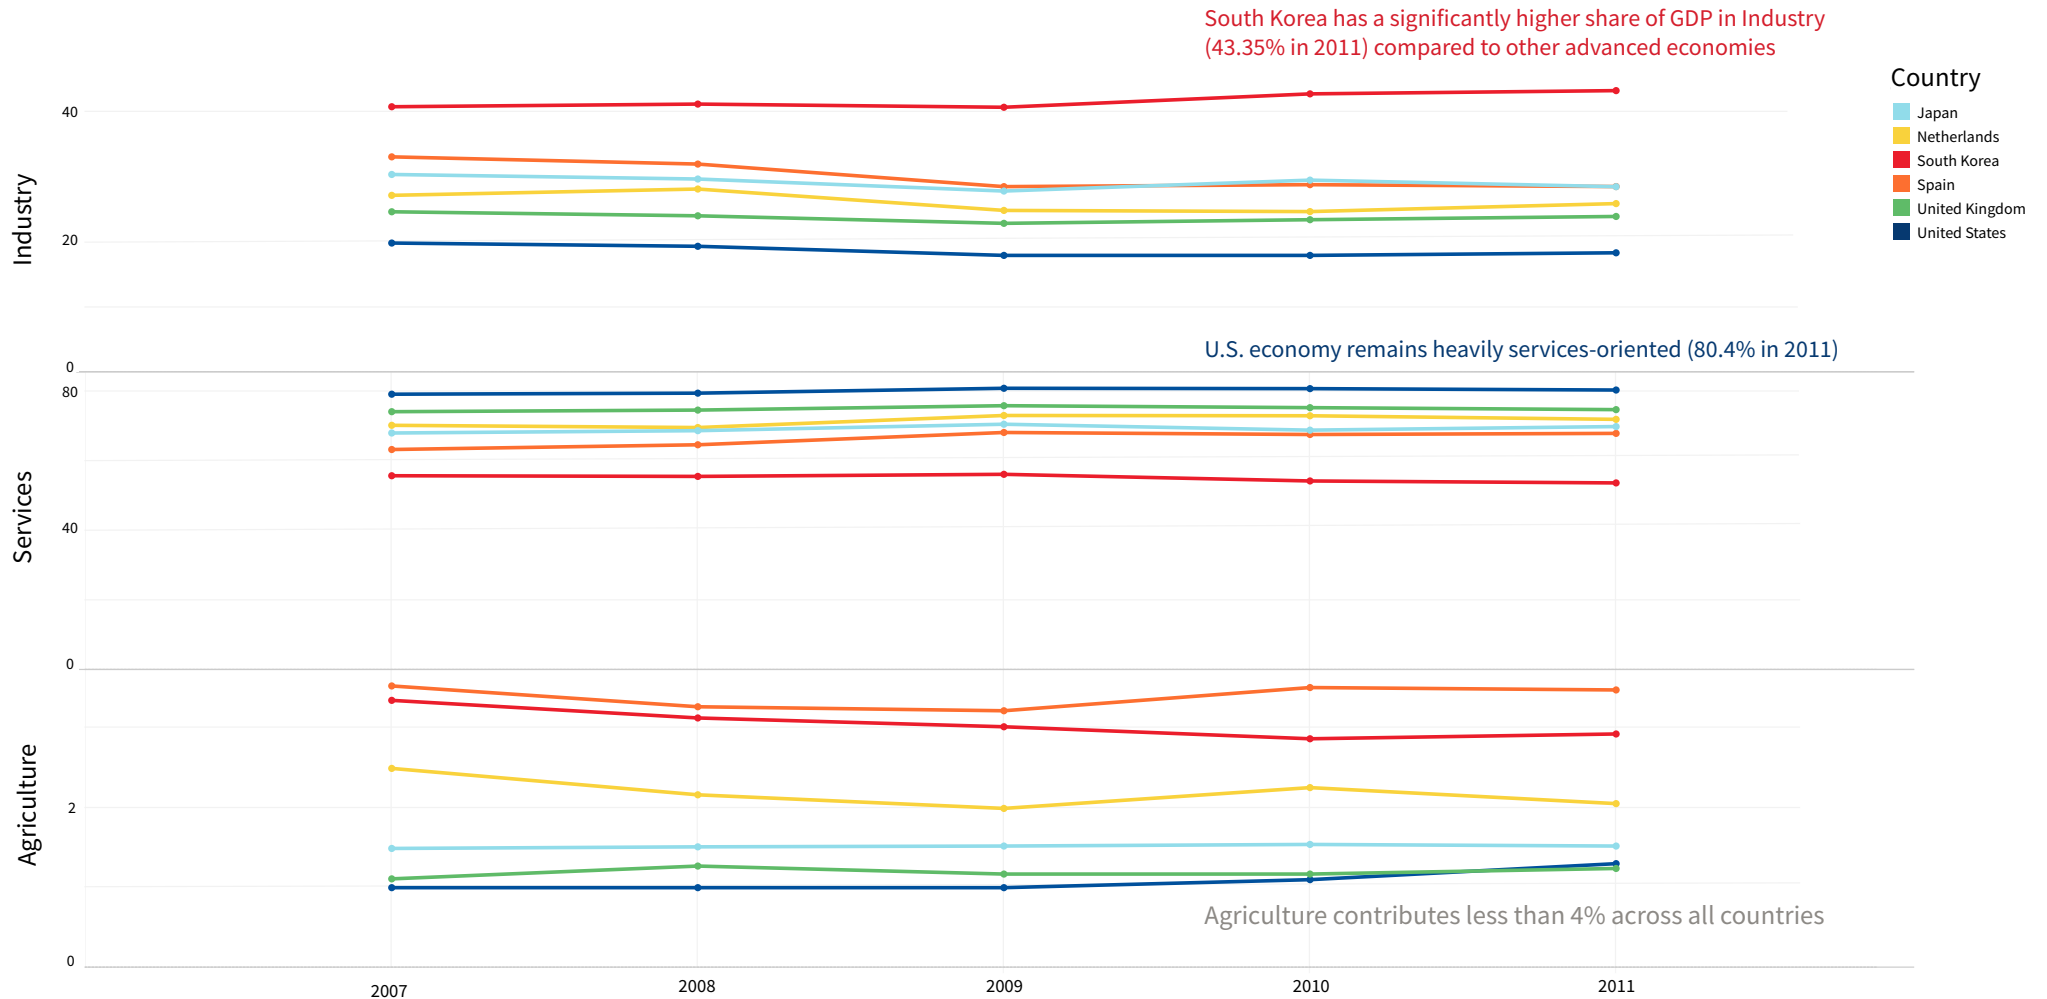

Diverging patterns in agricultural dependence, with higher shares in emerging economies

Data: World Bank and OECD (2025)

Sectoral Share of GDP (%): Industry, Services and Agriculture

Tracking Economic Structure Across Advanced Economies (2007–2011)

Source: Our World In Data based on Herrendorf et al. (2014)